

Cell phone use aboard airborne aircraft should not be allowed. In such a confined space, the use of a cell phone will only lead to confrontation due to the inconsiderate nature of many cell phone users. With most domestic flights being only 3-4 hours, one should be able to do without the cell phone for that short period of time with a minimum of planning.